BOY LOST LIFE IN TRYING TO FIND DOG

City Engineer Was Among the Victims and Three Are Still Missing

RANGER, Texas, July 24.—Three persons are known to be dead, eleven injured are at the local hospital, and three are missing following a fire which last night destroyed a half block of buildings here, with property loss estimated at $100,000.

S. E. Taylor, manager of the Home Laundry, formerly with the First National Bank of Breckenridge; N. D. McKinnon, city engineer, A. and M. college graduate, who recently came here from Troup; Billie Wallace, 7, grandson of Mrs. Elma Craig, proprietor of the McCleskey Hotel, which was destroyed, are those listed as dead.

Billie Wallace, 7, listed as among the dead in the fire, died in an effort to save the life of his dog, according to friends of the family.

The boy had been brought from the McCleskey Hotel, which his grandmother operated, but after saying he was going to save his pet, which he believed was in the building, he was not seen again.

The list of injured contains the following names:

Miss Bell Yates, Fort Worth, both legs broken.

Mrs. C. E. Robertson, Fort Worth, sprained back.

Mrs. Coke Jones, Fort Worth, both legs broken.

Mrs. Stella Halbrook, Dallas, limb injured, probably hurt internally.

Mrs. Ella Baugh, Fort Worth, both ankles and jaw broken, possibly fractured skull.

L. C. Hensley, Ranger, fractured ankle.

L. B. Wood, Ranger, lacerations and loss of blood.

C. Maxwell, Ranger, burns and minor injuries.

Mrs. Ella Craig, Ranger, nervous shock.

The negro porter of the McCleskey Hotel had gone to the station to meet an early morning train when he returned and saw flames on the second floor of the building.

He gave the alarm and all fire fighting apparatus in town was called to the scene.

A call also was sent to the Eastland fire department, which arrived in record time. Credit is given the Eastland fire fighters for preventing the spread of the flames from the McCleskey block.

The entire block was reduced to ruins, only a part of the Southland Hotel being left standing.

The McCleskey Hotel, three stories, the Southland Hotel, three stories, the Ranger garage, one story, and the Dixon-Ames grocery building were those in the block.

Hunt's Daily Letter

BY HARRY B. HUNT
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON—Jud Welliver, ex-newspaper man, now chief clerk at the White House, has been giving considerable thought of late to analyzing, or trying to analyze, that political enigma, his boss, Calvin Coolidge.

Perhaps it is injudicious of us to up Cal to the fact that Jud has been dissecting him, metaphorically speaking. Maybe Cal doesn't like to be dissected.

Maybe his New England conscience will lead him to demand that Jud put in his time looking after the affairs of his job as chief clerk, not in trying to figure out how the wheels go round in the president's mental mechanism.

Still, since Cal is a candidate and Jud's analysis is a favorable one, we guess he won't fire Jud, so here goes.

THE president, Welliver says, after 10 months of close observation, does two things superbly well. They are:

1. Listening.

2. Thinking.

Taking up these two matters in more detail, Welliver finds that though he is an expert listener the president is discriminating in his listening. In other words, unless a thing is worth listening to he doesn't listen to it.

He may appear to be listening, but the sound waves vibrating against his ear drums will not be registering on his consciousness.

On these occasions, though he may look like he's listening, he's really thinking. Welliver holds. Just what he thinks at such times, Welliver doesn't say—maybe it wouldn't look well in print—but from the way the condition is described it seems that the president just twists his mental dial and tunes out the speaker on such occasions.

The conversation continues, but

From Colonel to Painter!

He and his folks are quartered in the prison barracks at Wunsdorf, Germany, near Berlin, where many Russian refugees are being cared for with the aid of philanthropic organizations.

TUNNEY AWARDED FIGHT AS A K. O.

But Carpentier Claims That the Blow Was Foul and There Was Much Confusion

(Associated Press) NEW YORK, July 24.—Gene Tunney, light heavy-weight champion, won a technical knockout over Georges Carpentier of France in the last round of a 15 round match in the Polo grounds tonight.

Carpentier was unable to continue after coming up for the fifteenth. A blow, which Carpentier himself said was low, at the end of the fourteenth round, sent the Frenchman to the mat writhing in pain but Referee Griffith refused to call the blow a foul and ordered Carpentier up when the bell sounded the fifteenth.

The Frenchman came out but sank to the floor and the referee awarded the fight to Tunney on a technical knockout, terminating the match to 14 seconds in the last round in which not a blow was struck.

The conclusion of the match was the scene of utmost confusion and the most unsatisfactory ending in local ring history.

Complaint began when Carpentier, doubled up from apparent pain, attempted to renew the battle from a semi-crouched position.

He groped around the ring in an attempt to find Tunney and Referee Griffith, uncertain whether to allow Carpentier to continue, awarded Tunney to a corner and ordered him to stop the match. Carpentier roared to the floor, unable to stand.

The ringside became a bedlam of confusion. Handlers for both fighters rushed into the ring.

Francois Descamps, Carpentier's manager, waving his arms, rushed to the referee. "Poul, Poul!" he cried, Griffin waved him away, while Humphrey, the official announcer, lifted Tunney's arm in token of victory.

FITTING TOGETHER LINKS IN EVIDENCE MURDER OF FRANKS

State's Attorney Continues to Weave Story of the Crime into Records

UNPRINTABLE FACTS GIVEN TO THE JUDGE

Moving Picture Machine Was Brought into Court Room But Was Discovered

(Associated Press) CHICAGO, July 24.—Continuing the piling up of evidence designed to send Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb to the gallows for the kidnapping and murder of Robert Franks, State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe today produced in court the State's exhibits in the chain of evidence, for formal identification. These included the typed cold-chisel used in beating the boy to death; the charred remains of the blood-stained automobile robe rescued from the ashes of a bonfire on the lake front; a portable typewriter similar to that on which was written the ransom letter received by Franks' father and paper and envelopes identified as of the texture as that sold to Leopold shortly before the disappearance of their victim.

Introduced also by the State was a pint bottle identified by a drug clerk as the one in which he had sold hydrochloric acid to Leopold on the day of the murder.

Throughout the morning session in which more than fifteen witnesses were called to the stand by the State, the two young college students sat composedly behind their attorneys, listening intently and occasionally whispering with their attorneys.

There was a noticeable speeding up of proceedings today. Robert E. Crowe, with the assent of the defense asking leading questions of his witnesses and dismissed the fourth student with this query: "Your testimony is substantially the same as that of the other students?"

"Yes, sir," was the reply.

Open court proceedings were delayed in starting by a session in chambers in which Mr. Crowe gave Judge John R. Caverly some information, in his opening statement, he had indicated was "not fit for public knowledge."

Clarence S. Darrow and Benjamin Bachrach, defense attorneys, were the only persons besides the judge who were given this material.

Rain outdoors and the prospect of less dramatic developments in the hearing which is to determine the degree of punishment of Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb for the kidnapping and murder of Robert Franks, combined today to dampen the enthusiasm of "court fans."

The knowledge that only a few could gain admission to Judge John R. Caverly's court contributed to this result.

George Homer, a detective, told of arresting Richard Loeb and of taking him to the La Salle hotel for preliminary questioning by the State's attorney after Leopold's glasses had been found in the marsh near the railroad culvert, which gave up Franks' body. This was the day before Decoration Day, he said.

Dr. Emil Deutsch, oculist, was called to identify the glasses found in the marsh as those prescribed by himself for Leopold. He told of prescribing glasses for Leopold of the type found near the culvert.

A minor degree of astigmatism was given as the trouble from which Leopold was suffering.

Judge Caverly ordered a moving picture camera out of the room at the start of the afternoon session and sent the operator from court under the escort of a deputy sheriff.

"I warn you camera men," announced the judge, "that I will send to prison the next man who brings a moving picture machine into this court."

"You know one was here and should have told me. Unless you photographers behave, you will all go out."

Leopold and Loeb Pleading Guilty

Here are Nathan F. Leopold Jr. (left) and Richard Loeb, 19-year-old sons of millionaires, at the bar in Chief Justice John R. Caverly's court, pleading guilty to the kidnapping and murder of 14-year-old Robert Franks. Both of the youthful "intellectuals" were dressed fastidiously as they came into court. And both outwardly were calm as they walked to the bench. Leopold, however, is gazing downward, but Loeb is looking straight at the judge. The strain, though, is noticeable in the faces of both.

NO AGREEMENT ON FINANCIAL PHASE

London Conference is Dead- lock on the Vital Point of Guarantees

(Associated Press) LONDON, July 24.—The conflict in the views between the French delegates to the inter-allied conference and the American and British financiers regarding the safeguards for the protection of investors in the German loan proposed under the Dawes plan, remained unrecanted today, according to well informed persons.

Formal and informal meetings of the delegates this morning produced no indication of a way out of the impasse.

The principal meeting was at Downing street, where Premier Herriot of France, Premier Theunis of Belgium, American Ambassador Kellogg and Italian Finance Minister De Stefani had a two hours conference with Prime Minister MacDonald.

The greatest significance is being attached to the coming and going of Secretary of State Hughes and Secretary of Treasury Mellon of the United States, who are trying to convince London that their mission is unofficial.

Such high hopes were raised at the outset of the conference by the participation of the United States that observers still are optimistic that the two members of the American cabinet can yet find a way despite the unofficial character of their good offices, and will be of assistance in solving the deadlock between the financiers and conference delegates.

THE PRIZE CATCH OF THE SEASON

COTTON OPENED UP BUT TOOK A DROP ON RAIN REPORTS

A Hundred Points Knocked Off the Price with Unsettled Weather Southwest

BETTER TREND IN THE DRY GOODS MARKET

Dry Hot Wave Had Small Effect After the First Heavy Buying Had Been Done

(Associated Press) NEW YORK, July 24.—Cotton prices on the local market jumped from 51 to 58 points overnight, lifting July contracts to 35.40 this morning and December to 29.55. This represented a rise of more than $10 a bale in two days.

Alarming crop reports from the Southwest, notably Texas, and a large business in the cotton goods market at advancing prices were the principal sources of the market's early strength.

Wall street and commission houses were going buyers while New Orleans, the South spot houses and old longs sold. Much of the buying was based on the idea that cotton in the Southwest, owing to continued hot weather is going backward fast.

Reports from dry goods centers noted a large business and advancing prices in sympathy with the upturn in raw cotton.

Strength of the market was sustained throughout the first hour, but later gave way to a selling movement, based on predictions of unsettled weather conditions in the Southwest.

Prices had an almost pendulous drop of 100 to 113 points on new crop months which carried October off to 28.55 and December to 27.50 at midday.

The early afternoon market continued heavy under liquidation based on the official forecast indicating showers in the Southwest except in Texas. Support was encountered in the cotton futures of high temperatures over the central and western belts, which rallied prices about 15 points from the lowest.

Futures closed barely steady.

NEW ORLEANS, July 24.—The cotton market opened very active with quite a wave of buying and a continued heat and drought in the West. First trades of new crop months showed gains of 16 to 25 points.

July opened here 18 points down at 28.90, owing to the circulation of notices for 3200 bales but soon rallied on news that the notices had been stopped, advancing to 29.40 while New York advanced to 35.40, showing that the squeeze was still on there.

The market reacted sharply on indications by the weather bureau map for cooler and showery weather coming in on the western belt. The decline was helped by tender on July contracts locally of 11,400 bales, absorbing all of the local certificate stock.

The market turned weak again in the early afternoon mainly on the report from New York that the big operators who bought so heavily yesterday had liquidated.

October traded down to 27.55 and December to 27.44, or 110 to 115 points down from the highs of the morning and 40 to 47 points net lower compared with yesterday's close. The market continued to rule within a few points of the low levels well into the last hour of trading.

Texas reported 23 stations with temperatures of 100 to 105 yesterday. Thirteen stations in Oklahoma, 100 to 105.

Futures closed steady at net decrease of 43 to 48 points.

LOW PRICED RAILS BEING ACCUMULATED

NEW YORK, July 24.—Concerted selling of individual stocks, which had been adversely affected by new developments coincident with the steady accumulation of low-priced rails, gave today's active stock market an irregular appearance. Some good gains were recorded by the public utility and sugar issues, while local transactions in textiles and chemicals were heavy. Sales approximated 1,000,000 shares.

WOMEN HERE SEE THAT G.F.P. REALLY RESTORES VITALITY

Many Tell of Remarkable Quick Gains in Weight and Health Since They Have Begun to Use It.

When women seem so anxious to let their friends and fellow women know how St. Joseph's G. F. P. has caused them to gain in weight and strength, further proof of the astonishing success of this great medicine seems necessary. It is getting to be a common occurrence to hear women, who were formerly thin and frail, gaining strength so rapidly as to astonish their friends and family and cause them to wonder how it could be done.

When they are asked for an explanation of this sudden change in their condition, they invariably attribute it to the phenomenal medicine, G. F. P. "I am now on my third bottle and have gained six pounds," says one woman. "I have just finished my fourth bottle of G. F. P.," says another woman, who had been so frail and weak that her husband and children were alarmed, "and I have gained ten pounds. I am now able to lift, eat and work like a normal woman again."

There is a reason for this. The discoverer of G. F. P. believed that some powerful remedy was causing most of the ailments from which women suffer. After years of painstaking search, he discovered the cause of the trouble. This remedy, G. F. P., is the cause of the ailments from which women suffer. THE PLIGHT OF TEXAS

During these three and a half years the general revenue fund of the State of Texas has been exhausted. There will be, next January when the new administration takes charge, a deficit running well into the millions. The credit of the State is impaired; the prison system owes more than a million dollars and there are other obligations piled up.

In such a predicament it is clearly essential that a man with a knowledge of State affairs and a man with a capacity for business matters on a large scale is to be chosen to head the State government.

The only candidate for governor who is qualified as a successful business man and one who has a clear conception of State affairs is Lynch Davidson—beholden to no man for political favors, not affiliated with any group, clique, clique, clan, bloc or fraternity—an independent man with knowledge, capacity and courage and broad comprehension of the duties of the place which he seeks.

DON'T BE TOO CREDULOUS

Don't too readily accept "last minute" stuff put out concerning any candidate or cause. If it were true and had a real bearing on the campaign it would have been developed during the campaign. "Last minute" stuff is made up of by the unscrupulous to arouse prejudice and hatred and usually there is little truth in it.

NOTE EARLY AND HELP OFFICIALS

By voting early you can materially assist the election officials. The vote is going to be a heavy one and if everyone attempts to vote during the late afternoon there is going to be a rush and a crush that will not only be vexatious to the voters but will sadly delay the officials and add immensely to their troubles.

BOY WAS RELEASED AND AUTO HELD

While Officer McComb of the police force was on Bonham street Thursday afternoon his attention was attracted to a 17-year-old youth who had a car in good shape that he was said to be trying to trade for an old car. After questioning him, Officer McComb carried him to police headquarters, where he was questioned and a statement was finally obtained from him that he was from Brookland, Angeline county, and that the car belonged to his aunt.

The Angeline county officers were communicated with and they requested that the auto be held until some one could come after it, and that the boy be released, which was done.

The arrival of Polly and the Goofer makes the party complete. Polly, who is wearing a charming traveling costume of navy blue silk crepe, is most enthusiastically greeted. Mitzi has on a knitted suit with a white silk blouse and tailored tie. Her hat is one of these new soft felts that are simply tied on one side to fit the head. The Goofer is slightly annoyed to find that Bill arrived first and Bill is correspondingly amused.

THE FRUITS OF RIGHTEOUS LIFE

Rev. Mr. Shawver Pointed Out True Wisdom in Making Selection

At the morning service yesterday, Rev. Shawver, who is holding the Bonham Street Methodist revival, pointed out the "Fruits of the Righteous Life," using as his text Proverbs 11:30: The fruit of the righteous is a tree of life; and he that winneth souls is wise. As the foundation of the message the speaker covered the labors of men who are not wise and the labors of men who are wise. "A man of genius," he said "once took two acorns into his study. After a time he left one on the shelf in his study and planted the other in his yard."

"In due season the acorn that was planted sprang forth from the ground—it was given the Divine touch and it grew to be a wide-spreading oak. This may be said of the man of genius. He represents the human life in touch with the Divine touch winneth souls. The acorn on the shelf is the ungodly—it lacked Divine touch and unless it be planted it will be lost with time bearing no increase."

Last night Mr. Shawver brought the most powerful message of the week meeting: Gal. 6:7: "Whatsoever a man soweth that shall he also reap."

"What we sow we will reap and what we sow we will reap. You cannot gather grapes from thorns or figs from thistles. If you plant in ground, but the heart which is indeed the most fertile field in creation. Right and wrong grow there and multiplies there."

"Some of the weeds that grow in the heart are hate and envy and these are actually being cultivated in the hearts of some of our own members. If hate is in your heart you had better do some good to the man even if you are a church member."

"I know a man personally, who in his youth went out into the fields of sin—a man of genius, personality and education—who reaped a most awful disease. The physician removed a limb to save his life, he came to be helpless. It was the reaping from his own life's field."

MILLER COMPANY PUT ON PROGRAM

Musical, Dancing and Oratorical Talent Displayed to the Lions Club

Dr. L. B. Stephens, in charge of the Lions club program Thursday, provided an entertainment out of the ordinary, all the talent being selected from the Miller company's organization.

In the business meeting preceding the program Frank Simmons and Lloyd Robinson were voted on as members of the Lions club and were both unanimously elected. The regular method of election was then suspended and Reagan Hart of The Morning News was elected to membership by acclamation.

P. K. Browning of the Miller company succeeded in putting quite a bit of pep into all the members present by insisting that all join in the singing. Mr. Browning is the kind of leader to get the club in a singing mood and although many of the Lions' voices could stand some training they joined in with a will and did some excellent singing.

A cornet duet by Mr. Browning and his son, Earl David, won the appreciation of the entire club.

Wm. Isbell, another employee of the Miller company, was introduced with his guitar and he gave two vocal solos that won a hearty round of applause.

An announcement that a pair of overalls was to be given away caused considerable attention to the next number, which was a jig dance by an employee of the Miller company. Before the dance came into the room Mr. Browning said that at the close of the number he would give a pair of overalls to any Lion who could guess that young "man's" name.

Everyone agreed that "he" was some dancer and when a vote was taken Hugh Palmer and Reagan Hart both guessed that "his" name was Mary. The dancer was introduced as Miss Mary Davis and the Miller company now expects to see a Buick automobile salesman and The News advertising solicitor appearing on the job in Hawk Brand overalls.

A service talk concluded the program. Mr. Cassidy told where in the Miller company was a real benefit to Paris in that it offered employment to many deserving women and girls, saving them enough overalls of other makes are sold in Lamar county to supply employment to every applicant he has for a job if they were produced in our home factory.

The weekly prize given by B. W. Tinnin and was won by Homer Parsons.

To the Voters of Precinct Four

As the campaign draws to a close both the weather and politics are warming up. Please don't ensure me for either.

I have made an effort to see every voter in the precinct always with the desire uppermost to not worry or bore anyone and I wish to take this opportunity and meet with you to thank you one and all for the courteous treatment that I have received at your hands.

I will certainly appreciate each and every vote and I expect that your commissioner promises that I will always do my level best to see that you shall never have cause to regret having voted for me.

I believe in good country roads and with the twenty-two to twenty-three thousand dollars that will be available in this precinct for use on roads other than highways five and nineteen that we could see that the home of Mrs. W. L. Day with 12 members present.

POWDERY TOMATO SEASON WOUND UP WEDNESDAY

The tomato growers at Powderly finished their season Wednesday. They were all disposed of to the Anis Bros. of this city and the growers packed them at the shed and got them ready for shipment to the city, from which point they were shipped out to different towns. Dry weather cut the crop off some and toward the end they got puffy and had air spaces. These were not very good to ship. One of the growers said, however, that the growers realized on an average over $200 an acre for their crops.

To the Voters of Lamar County

In my judgment there is no more important place to be filled by the voters at the coming election than that of chief justice of the supreme court of Texas. The nature of the position, the dignity thereof and the duties connected therewith are such that no aggressive campaign can be ethically carried out by the aspiring candidates. We being vitally interested as any other good citizen in maintaining the character and prestige of our supreme court desire to commend to you Judge W. C. Ware of Hillsboro, a man qualified in every respect to perform the duties of this high office.

DESIRE BENEFITS OF ANNEXATION

Nearly a Hundred Families Living in Suburbs Make Application

A petition was filed with Mayor T. F. Justus Thursday, which was signed by property owners in West Paris outside of the city limits asking that they be admitted into the city. The territory that is proposed to be annexed in the petition will include nearly if not quite a hundred families and would be a sharp little increase in the population of the city.

The proposed territory lies south of Graham street, north of Austin street and west to Haig street. The purpose of the petitioners in seeking to be annexed is to get water. The annexation would also mean the care of the street and the extension of the sewer system.

The main advantage that the property owners would derive from being annexed to the city would be a reduction of $4 on the $1000 in their insurance rate, which would practically offset the increase in taxes.

Mayor Justus stated Thursday evening that the city is in a position at the present time to extend water mains, but that he doesn't know how long it will be in that position, and that now is a good time for outlying districts to make application to get in.

The movement among the people mentioned in the foregoing petition to the council for annexation is said to have been started late Wednesday evening and the petition was not circulated for signatures until after supper, but with a single exception everybody to whom it was presented for a signature signed it and it was ready to be presented to the mayor Thursday morning.

The petition is expected to be presented to the council next Monday night.

Last year she taught English and history in the high school, Rockwell, La., where her services were highly satisfactory. Next year she will teach the same subjects in the high school at Shreveport, La., and after teaching there one year she expects to enter Columbia university for the M. A. degree. She was also offered the position of assistant to the principal of a very important high school at a better salary, but has already accepted a contract with the Shreveport school.

Miss Jones was educated in the ward schools of Paris, San Marcos and Burleson colleges and Baylor university.

To the Voters of Commissioners' Precinct 4

I take this opportunity of recommending Louis E. Reed to you as a hard working, sober, conscientious, Christian boy, who was raised on the farm under trying circumstances. He has worked his own way through school and came out with high honors.

In my judgment the commissioners are the most important officers of our county, and we should have true, honest men who have been tried and found worthy of such a trust.

If you want such a man as this, then vote for Louis E. Reed. He will give every man and woman a square deal and honest service.

I don't want to leave the impression that other candidates are not trustworthy, but I have known Louis all of his life and don't hesitate to recommend him to you.

THE PRECINCT CONVENTIONS

To Be Held Saturday at Two O'clock at Places Designated by Chairman

Judge Tom L. Beauchamp, chairman of the executive committee of the democratic primary election which is to be held in Paris Saturday, again urges the voters in Paris and Lamar county to vote as early as possible in the day, thus co-operating with those in charge, in order that a complete return of the election may be gotten out as early in the night as possible. Early voting on the part of those who can will enable those who work later to get a chance to vote. Instructions have been mailed the judges who will hold the election at the various points over the county and qualified voters have been selected to hold the election.

Secretary A. W. Neville has mailed instructions to the committee chairman who will hold the precinct primary at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, July 26, at places designated by the chairman to elect delegates to the county convention which will be held the following Saturday, August 2, at the court house. These delegates will at this time elect delegates to the State convention which is to be held the first week in September.

Each precinct is entitled to as many delegates as their voting body is entitled to elect and vote in the convention in proportion to the number of voters in the precinct.

When decision has been made the chairman will fill out the necessary blanks and send them to Secretary A. W. Neville as soon as convenient; sending a duplicate to one of the delegates elected to attend the convention.

The precinct convention is to be held exactly the same as the one held to select delegates to the county presidential convention and the same procedure will be followed.

Precinct conventions for the city of Paris will be held at the following places: First ward at the city hall, J. W. Biard, chairman; Second ward at Johnson building opposite the Chamber of Commerce, N. H. Ragland, chairman; Third ward at the court house in district court room; Fourth ward at the North Texas Battery and Electric company, corner Lamar avenue and Twenty-second street.

CANDIDATES HELD ROUNDUP AT PARKS

With No Date to Fill They Gathered in Candidate Lane and Swapped Hopes

There are doubtless many and varied bonds of sympathy between most people, but the small bit of white pasteboard which is the distinguishing mark of all candidates for office, seems a strong bond—a tie that binds them in crowds and in sympathy with one another.

The successful candidate has a feeling of sympathy for his less fortunate opponent, while each gives encouragement to the other without prejudice or favor.

Most of the candidates hang together during the roundup, but when all appointments are filled they feel a calling for their kind and hold roundups among themselves at the various gathering places in the city—the most favorite of which is Park's Place on North Main street, just across from the county court house—for several years maintaining a successful record as "candidate headquarters," the streets thereabout being known as "candidate lane."

On Saturday night the election returns will be posted on a board which has been constructed for that purpose and which is placed on the north wall of Park's building.

The names of the voting boxes in the county together with the names of the candidates will be posted on this board as fast as they come in, and its position facing the street and court house make it a gathering place for many of the voters who watch for the election returns.

"Candidate lane" was thronged with candidates Thursday night, and will continue to be the main gathering place through election day.

By general agreement the candidates will not hand out cards on Saturday, election day, yet those who are unacquainted with the candidates in this office will find them in numbers on "candidate lane"—they wear a determined, purposeful, if somewhat worried look—and "by these signs" know the candidates.

FINAL ROUNDUPS TO BE HELD TODAY

Candidates Will Present Their Claims for Various Offices in Paris This Evening

The candidate roundups that have been held at various places over the county for the past six weeks have created a lot of interest in the county election which takes place Saturday and have given the aspirants to the different offices an opportunity of meeting personally the voting men and women over the county.

Thus far there have been no public gatherings held in the city of Paris where the candidates might state his or her platform and make individual pleas to those living in the city. Friday will be the last day for speeches before the first primary and two public gatherings have been arranged for that day.

At 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon there will be a roundup of all the candidates at the Immanuel Baptist tabernacle on Bonham street and a great crowd is expected. The tabernacle is comfortably cool and there will be seats for everyone, thus adding comfort for those who wish to hear what the candidates have to say.

The final roundup will be held at 8 o'clock on the south side of the Plaza and this meeting is anticipated as being the climax of one of the most active campaigns in many years.

Dr. Truett Resents Attempt to Use His Name for Political Purposes

Dallas, Tex., July 23.—"Any public statement which would interpret me either directly or indirectly as favoring or opposing the present candidacy of any person for the governorship has been made without my knowledge, and without my approval," is the gist of the answer made in a letter by George Truett, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Dallas, who was presented with an advertisement showing indorsement of Felix D. Robertson recently appearing in an advertisement quoting J. Frank Norris as saying: "There is not a man in Texas who would believe for one minute that George W. Truett would commend any man who is not above reproach on every inch of the ground. The First Baptist church of Dallas, Texas, is truly one of the great churches of all time, beginning with the church at Jerusalem until Christ comes again."

Dr. Truett made his denial of authorization of any such statement in a letter delivered from him to Chas. G. Thomas, State campaign manager for Lynch Davidson, to offset any impression that might be made by the advertisement that he or the First Baptist church of Dallas was favoring or opposing the candidacy of any man.

The jinx that has been persistently hovering over the trail of the North Stars was dispelled yesterday, and aided by the excellent pitching of Lefty Brown and timely hitting of Hub Hollis and Skipper Zeider the locals won a close and hotly contested game from the Greenville Hunters by a score of 2 to 1.

Both Munn and Brown pitched good ball, but the local hurler managed to hold the visitors tight in the pinches. Brown was inclined to wildness, walking three and plunking one in the slats, but was extremely stingy with hits when runners threatened. Both clubs played a good holding game, although the locals made a couple of errors, but luckily neither of them was costly.

The Hunters gave Munn errorless support, and flashed some excellent fielding. Buster Chatham, Hunter shortstop, made a dazzling stop and throw in the fourth that started a double play and robbed Zeider of a base hit and the North Stars of a run. Chatham went on second to scoop Zeider's well hit ball, forcing the runner at second and maling Zeider at first. It was a peach of a play.

The Hunter's lone tally came in the fifth, when Chatham led off with a double against the center field palings, and Lewis hunted him to third. With Robertson up the squeeze was worked and Chatham scored while Brown fumbled the ball long enough to reach first in safety.

While Brown was the principal factor in holding the Hunters safe it was Hollis and Zeider who put on the offensive stuff that won the ball game when the Stars scored two runs in the sixth. With one out in this round Peeewe Lewers worked Munn for a pass, and promptly stole second. Hollis, who is slugging the ball hard the last ten days, drove a triple to left center and Peeewe scored. Skipper Zeider sent Hollis home with a clean single to left.

Munn then put on the brakes and set the homelings down in order in the next two frames, while the Hunters threatened in the seventh and ninth. In the seventh Chatham and Zeider walked on four wide ones, but was forced at second by Lewis. Robertson was hit by a pitched ball, but was forced by Munn. With the tying and winning runs on base Brown tightened up and struck out the hard hitting Jimmy Kitts. The Hunters, a ball club that never quits, made an other bid in the ninth. With Blackerby disposed of, Chatham hit a high pop fly in the center of the diamond. Brown, Zeider and Howe all started for the ball, each stopped for the other and the ball fell safe for a hit. Lewis singled to center, but Robertson flew out to Gallegos in center, and Hasley pinch hitting for Munn, struck out.

The same clubs play again this afternoon, and then the North Stars take on Marshall for a series. Marshall has a postponed game with the North Stars as a result of a tie game here on July 1, and this may probably be played off during the coming visit of the Indians.

FARMERS DIVIDED AS TO RAIN BEING NEEDED

There appears to be a difference of opinion among the farmers as to whether a rain right away would be beneficial or not. Some of them say that they don't want to see it rain for two weeks, while others say it is needed to make cotton grow and give it more weed and stalk. A majority of farmers say rain is needed.

"Dengue Fever left me with partial paralysis of my digestive and all other organs. I suffered greatly the past year and tried everything without relief. I was persuaded to try FERRASAL and got results from the first box. I can now eat anything and my general health is excellent."

ALRED DEVELOPED A MODERN DAIRY

Is Planning to Extend Plant and to Establish Creamery in Paris

Serving good fresh rich milk to the people of Paris is the business of George Alred who has a modern up to date dairy at Givens. Four years ago Mr. Alred started in the dairy business with four cows. Today he owns seventy-five cows and has all the equipment to be found in any first class dairy.

His cows are all inspected and the milk Mr. Alred sells is as pure and rich as any to be had.

In addition to two regular deliveries to Paris customers his products are now on sale at Tillery's ice office and Hicks & Hackel's.

Many more Paris people call for milk from Alred's dairy.

But Mr. Alred has plans for still greater expansion. He believes that there exists in Paris a demand for real creamery and he is now planning to open one that will serve the needs of his customers. Within the next few weeks he hopes to be established in his new quarters on North Main street, opposite the court house. In the meantime he will continue to serve his patrons with quality cream, milk and butter.

COMMUNITY SERVICE WEEK CONTINUES IN INTEREST

Interest continues to grow in the Community Service Week program being presented at Mt. Zion, Methodist church and the attendance is large.

On Wednesday night about 100 men and women from the farm districts heard C. H. Waller, State lecturer on the agricultural extension work, who gave a fine talk on some of the neglected opportunities of the farmer.

He said that farmers actually do not put in one third of their time and energy upon diversification of crops and the raising of enough food for family and stock, as a necessity to successful farming.

The farmers present represented nearly every section of the county and they pledged themselves to give more consideration to this work.

The talk was followed by an excellent address on "Economy" by Hon. Mr. Martin.

Thursday night was given over to an educational talk by Major Rufus Scott, Jr., who spoke to a very attentive audience. His directness and simplicity made his address impressive and beneficial to any congregation. He said that the interest of the colored people in agriculture of this kind would prove a valuable example to other communities.

ELECTRIC IRONS SHOULD HAVE PILOT LIGHTS

M. L. Sauley, city fire marshal, in speaking of the fire on Bonham street a few nights ago, which originated from the current of an electric iron having been left on and causing the iron to get red hot and burn through the board to the floor and into the ceiling, said that if the iron had been provided with a pilot light which is made to attach to an iron to serve as a warning and a reminder to turn off the current the accident would have been avoided.

The pilot light attachment costs only a few cents. In the business district persons using electric irons are required to have them and are penalized if they do not have them, but in the residence district there is no law requiring electric irons to have the pilot light.

A NEW HAT MOST PRECIOUS TO A WOMAN

A new hat will do more toward re-establishing the self-respect of a woman released from jail than any other item, according to the report of the prison department of the Salvation Army.

Years of personal service for women, the report said, have demonstrated to Army workers that the question of a hat is paramount. A girl or a woman cannot seek employment in the discharge of clothes provided by the prison, the report pointed out, "and when her own no longer fit. If the girl has been in prison for three months, the hat she wore when arrested simply will not do."

Mouse traps should be thoroughly baited and aired after two or three mice have been caught in them. Otherwise the scent will keep mice away from them.

NO ONE LIKES TO LOOK AT A 'BROKEN OUT' FACE

If people who are bothered with pimples, eczema, blotches, bumps, rash, "breaking out," etc., would just notice or ask their dealer they would find that thousands of people who were in the same shape they are in are now free from those disreputable things, and the secret of it is that they have learned that the one sure way to get rid of them is by using the wonderful Black and White Ointment, together with Black and White Soap.

Black and White Ointment is economically priced in liberal size packages. The 50c size contains three times as much as the 25c size. All dealers have both the Ointment and the Soap.

SEWER PLAN IS CONTEMPLATED

Proposed Ordinance Which is to Be Considered by the Council in August

Paris now having a water system without a superior in Texas, being one of the best lighted cities in the State, having modern ward schools sufficient to care for its children and with the other advantages which are deemed essential for the modern town is now contemplating the disposal of the sewage, and to this end the following ordinance will come up before the city council at its meeting on August 11 for a first reading.

It is published thus far in advance that all property owners and occupants of rental property may be advised, and if they have commendation or criticism to offer they have that opportunity.

An ordinance requiring all residents and owners of property within the corporate limits of the city of Paris and within the drainage area of the sewer system to connect with the sewer line to connect with the same, providing for exceptions to be made by the city council by resolution and prescribing a penalty for the violation of the terms hereof.

Whereas, it has come to the knowledge of the city council that the increased density of the population of the city of Paris has increased the danger from communicable and contagious diseases and impaired the public health of the city and believing that every precaution should be taken for the betterment of the health conditions and the comfort of the inhabitants, now, therefore,

Be it ordained by the city council of the city of Paris: Section 1. Ninety days after the passage of this ordinance, the owner, owners, or occupants of any house or other premises situated within the corporate limits of the city of Paris, as the boundaries now exist and as they may be from time to time extended, shall connect said house or other premises with the sewer system and shall place or cause to be placed within said house or on said premises proper urinals, closets and conveniences and the occupants of said house or premises shall be required to use any and are hereby required to use the same and to refrain from and are forbidden to use any dry closet, out house, privy or other convenience than that properly connected with the sewer system; provided, however, that this ordinance shall not apply to any portion of the property or premises which is not within the drainage area of the sewer system and when its nearest boundary is not within a distance of one hundred and fifty feet of a sewer line to which they may be permitted to connect.

It is intended hereby to require connections to all buildings occupied either as a residence or other purposes when and where the lot upon which it is situated comes within one hundred and fifty feet of a sewer line, provided, further, that buildings situated more than three hundred feet from the sewer line nearest to the sewer system shall not be required to connect and the use of dry closets as permitted by the city council shall be permitted to be used therein.

Sec. 2. Whenever the sewer system of the city shall be extended the engineer shall give notice to all property owners or occupants of premises within the distance herein provided and ninety days thereafter such inhabitants and owners of property shall be subject to all the provisions hereof and shall be required to make connections under the conditions herein set out for those within the present required distance and area.

Sec. 3. The provisions of this ordinance shall apply only to such sections of the city as shall be furnished with city water and permitted to make connections with water mains. Nothing herein is to be construed to affect the present regulations or those that may be hereafter made regarding the use and connections with the city's water system. All provisions for the enforcement of other sewer district ordinances are herewith related and apply as well to the territory heretofore included in the sewer district as to the new territory heretofore included in the provision hereof, unless the terms of this ordinance expressly or by necessary implication repeal the same. But the provisions of this ordinance shall apply to the entire city in accordance with the terms hereof and the penalty herein provided shall apply to the entire city and all of its inhabitants.

Sec. 4. It shall be the duty of the city engineer to determine what houses and premises are within the provisions of this ordinance and to notify the owner or occupant of the fact, which notice shall be either in person or by posting a written notice directed to the street address of such person, or he may leave a written notice at the home of such person, either the owner or occupant, by securely fastening the same to the front door or leaving it with an adult person, and it shall thereafter be the duty of such person so notified to install the urinal, closets, commodes, or other conveniences and cease the use of any dry closets, out houses, or other prohibited conveniences and failure to do so within ten days, subject to the said occupant or owner to the penalties herein provided. But no conviction may be had until such notice has been given. It is also made the duty of the police department to investigate and report any violation coming within the provision or any violation of the terms hereof.

Sec. 5. Upon this ordinance becoming effective and the notice being given as herein provided, all persons coming within its provision and who shall violate any of the terms hereof or who shall fail or refuse to do the things herein provided for shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction in the corporation court shall be fined in any sum not less than Twenty-five Dollars and not more than One Hundred Dollars, and each day this ordinance is violated shall constitute a separate offense.

and made the points in regard to the Savior's life very telling, tracing the events from His birth to the Crucifixion. In each instance Mr. Allen showed that Christ performed miracles, not for Himself, but for His followers, and that He was crucified for mankind.

One of the commandments, "Thou shalt have none other gods but me" is of the few commands which Christ insists upon. If we lived up to this commandment we would have a much happier time in living. Temptation would not so often lead us on the downward path.

Mr. Allen's talk was very much appreciated. The song service was an important item of the evening's program.

I Spent

Fortunes to win beauty

By Edna Wallace Hopper

My mother was rich and ambitious. From my earliest years she urged me to enhance my beauty. She gave me her methods and formulas. Then she took me in a world-search for the newer beauty helps.

Most people know the results. I became a famous beauty and for many years I remained the rage. And now after 40 years in the limelight, I still look a girl of 19.

Since then I have consulted noted experts and famous beauties everywhere. I have spent fortunes to find all the latest beauty discoveries. So I believe that I now have the greatest beauty helps in existence. And certainly my results seem to prove that.

I have been induced to place these helps at every woman's call. Druggists and toilet counters everywhere supply them—the very helps I use. Thus every woman may obtain for a trifle the helps that cost me fortunes.

One is a liquid cleanser, which I call my Facial Youth. Lucile LaTrobe, the famous Parisian beauty, first told me what it did. Now leading beauty experts the world over are advising this great formula.

It contains no animal, no vegetable fat. It cannot assimilate in any way with the skin. So it cleans to the depths, then dries. All the grime, dead skin and clogging matter come out with it. A woman never knows what a clean skin means until she tries this Facial Youth.

Edna Wallace Hopper's Facial Youth sells everywhere for 75 cents. Beauty experts charge up to $5 for the same effects.

I shall be glad to send you a small bottle free if you mail this coupon. It will bring you new conceptions of what a clean skin means. My Beauty Book comes with it. Cut out the coupon now.
